

The future of fireplaces

COME IN OUT OF THE COLD

You can't beat the warmth and comfort of friendly flames, so think about heating your home before the big chill sets in.

Fires by Design has been supplying fires to New Zealanders for 20 years, establishing a reputation for providing cost-effective heating with uncompromising quality. Our fires are designed and built by Warmington, keeping New Zealand's unique conditions in mind. Innovative solutions such as Caitec technology and down-draft diverter systems deliver maximum efficiency with superior safety and environmentally friendly options.

Fires by Design offers design, manufacture and ongoing support from one convenient location. To see our total range of fires, visit our website or talk to one of our helpful staff.
